Dear Hiring Manager,

I'm applying for the IT technik position at VIAGEM. I'll be upfront, I truly enjoy IT. I can't fully explain why chasing down a script, bug or a server issue makes me happy, but it does and that curiosity is what's driven me toward this career.

In my current position, I've gained hands-on experience with server monitoring, scripting and databases. Much of what I know has come from taking the initiative to learn independently, supported by courses. When I encounter something new to me, I enjoy researching it, experimenting, and finding a solution.

Before moving into IT, I worked as an electrician, where diagnosing faults and solving problems under pressure was part of my everyday work. That experience taught me to think logically, stay calm when things don't go as planned, and take responsibility until the issue is resolved. Those are the same qualities I will bring to this position today.

You can count on me to approach problems with patience and a methodical mindset. I'm comfortable working independently, take ownership of my work, and collaborate effectively when needed. I would welcome the opportunity to contribute my skills and continue growing as part of your team.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
René Horňák
